AMERICA IS OBSERVING ITS NATAL DAY

UNITED STATES IN FULL CELEBRATION INDEPENDENCE DAY

COUNTRY BECAME ONE HUGE PLAYGROUND AS MILLIONS QUIETLY CELEBRATE

NEW YORK, July 4.—(AP)—America became one huge playground today as millions of citizens throughout the land turned to holiday pursuits to celebrate the 153rd anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

In foreign capitals members of American colonies displayed the Stars and Stripes on their homes and business places and invited citizens of their adopted country to join in their celebrations.

President Hoover and his family elected to spend the day quietly within the white house grounds, but his fellow citizens by hundreds of thousands planned more elaborate and strenuous celebrations.

The order of the day in observance of a "new fashioned" Fourth appeared to be to go somewhere, with seaside, lake and mountain resorts the favorite objectives.

At Philadelphia, Independence Hall, where the historic document was signed July 4, 1776, was the center of civic celebration.

While New York offered a wide choice of observance features, the city-at-homes a round million of its inhabitants packed aboard ex-

UNDERSTANDING OF CONSTITUTION HELD TO BE NECESSARY

GREAT DOCUMENT SHOULD BE DRILLED INTO CHILDREN SAYS BAR HEAD

AMARILLO, July 4.—(AP)—Thorough understanding of the constitution of the United States, the bulwark of liberty and the wealth and most powerful of all nations, should be brought home to every child and adult in the country, W. M. Crook of Beaumont, president of the Texas Bar association, said in an address here today.

Delivering his annual message before a joint meeting of the Texas and New Mexico Bar associations, in yearly session, Mr. Crook said the emphasis should be placed through public mediums upon this question as a means of attaining better citizenship had convinced the American people of its importance. The Texas bar, he declared, should provide for a standing committee to arouse interest in and devise means for the study of the constitution.

The association also should exert a helpful influence in the selection of judges, the speaker continued. A special committee on judicial selection to consider methods and means to this end should be appointed and instructed to report at the next meeting.

Science Reveals Secret Bathroom Melodiousness

CHICAGO, July 4.—(AP)—Bathroom baritone learned today why their voices sound so sweet while shaving and so sour when in the parlor.

V. Ford Greaves, who has been conducting experiments in acoustics in the Newcomb-Hawley laboratory, said the bathroom, being small, provides unusual sound reflection because the walls are smooth and close together.

"This condition," he said, "resonates, or builds up, wear and feeble voices, making the result sonorous and frequently even majestic."

FIRE DEMON STILL FEASTING THURSDAY ON PRETTY HOMES

FLAMES RAGING UNCHECKED IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA IN WOODED AREAS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 4.—(AP)—The fire demon continued to feast today upon the choice scenery and pretty homes of Mill Valley and upon ranches, forests, and grain fields elsewhere in California and Arizona.

In two places in the canyons and ridges above Mill Valley and in the Apache Indian reservation of Eastern Arizona—the demon still ate greedily. The Mill Valley fire was believed to have been diverted from the town and surrounding residential districts by crawling up the wooded slopes of Mount Tamalpais to die.

First news of the Apache reservation fire reached Phoenix last night. Telephone operators reported a fierce conflagration in the area, the center of one of the largest pine forests in Arizona. A wall of smoke rolled through the White mountain region. It was so thick in Sprinerville breathing was difficult. Springerville is north and west outside the reservation. Little information about the blaze was available because telephone lines to White river, near the center of the reservation, were down.

A fire at O'Neal's Madera county, Cal., swept 90,000 acres, scorching ranch homes, cattle grain, and dry feed before it was brought under control yesterday.

FIRST REAL ATTACK UPON NEW LABOR MINISTRY CAME FROM WITHIN PARTY RANKS

MAN ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH MURDER OF FAMILY

DETROIT, July 4.—(AP)—Discovery of a stained knife, a short axe and a pair of freshly washed shoes in the home of a man arrested in connection with the slaying yesterday of Benny Evangelista, "divine prophet of a religious cult, his wife and three children, all in bed, horribly mutilated. Arms of one of the children were amputated, and heads of all were almost severed.

Depoli admitted acquaintance with the family but denied any connection with the murders. Police said the knife found in his barn, a curved blade of the type commonly used in cutting bananas from the stalk, was freshly stained with what appeared to be blood.

Study of the strange cult which Evangelista headed and the fact that money, jewelry and papers in the house were untouched led police to bliv thiz?P? doorthatolice to believe the slayings were the work of a religious fanatic.

MEXICO PREPARES. MEXICO CITY, July 4.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS WILL BE VOTED JULY 16

SUPPLIES ARE BEING SENT TO FORTY-EIGHT VOTING PRECINCTS IN COUNTY

Election supplies are being prepared to be sent to the forty-eight voting precincts of Navarro county for the constitutional amendment election which will be voted in Texas, Tuesday, July 16, according to an announcement Wednesday night by County Judge Clay Neal.

Two amendments to the Constitution of Texas will be submitted to the voters of Texas at this election, one for the increasing of the salary of the governor from $4,000 per year to $10,000 per year and the other amendment is for the increasing of the members of the State Supreme Court from three to nine members.

The proponents of these two measures point out that the present salary for the chief executive of the State is entirely inadequate and that it is the salary which was fixed when the State was young and living conditions and expenses were a small fraction of those at the present time.

At the present time, there are two boards of review which pass on cases submitted to the Supreme court and then the Supreme court either concurs in the opinion of the commission or refuses. The cases are heard by these commissions and their findings submitted to the Supreme court. There are two of these commissions or boards of review and have been acting for some time and the proponents of the amendment are seeking to have these two boards which are unofficially called the State Board of Review, to become an official part of the court of highest appeal in the State.

Little or no interest has been shown by the Legislature in the two amendments and from the present indications, a light vote is anticipated.

FIREWORKS BLAST KILLS TWO PERSONS WRECKS BUILDING

EXPLOSION OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN CAUSES SPECTACULAR FIRE IN OMAHA

OMAHA, July 4.—(AP)—Two persons were killed in a fireworks explosion and fire which wrecked the four-story building of the Brinn & Jensen Wholesale Paper and Notions Company late yesterday.

The dead are Myron Jensen, 18, son of J. P. Jensen, president of the company, and Harry Jones, vice president of the concern.

Jones and Jensen were trapped on the top floor of the building, along with three other workers who escaped with their lives. One of the three, William Foll, 10, was burned slightly before firemen could reach him.

For an hour the fire threatened nearby buildings in the wholesale district before being brought under control by practically the entire Omaha fire department. Skyrockets and set pieces shot in all directions while police struggled to hold back a crowd of several thousand.

Cause of the explosion has not been definitely determined, but Lothard Jensen, another son, advanced the belief that dynamite, mistaken for powder and placed in an aerial bomb, was exploded.

Officer Goes to Kiss Wife; His Prisoner Leaves

MIAMI, Fla., July 4.—(AP)—Those little attentions so widely advertised as promoters of democratic happiness have put deputy United States marshal, W. F. Fry, in an awkward position.

His uncomfortable position has to do with the escape last night of a very valuable prisoner. The deputy's report of his chief therefore, will read something like this:

"Henry Davey, 45, suspected counterfeiter whom I was escorting to Louisville, Ky., for trial, took advantage of my momentary absence from a pullman drawing room to escape my custody. I had gone to the end of the car to kiss my wife goodbye."

Davey had been sought since 1926 after a flood of spurious bills had been loosed in Louisville, and had been captured here only after a three year chase through five states, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Florida. He was the last of a purported "counterfeiting ring" at liberty.

SLIDING SCALE SUGAR TARIFF IS GAINING SUPPORT

BACKERS OF PLAN ASSERT IT WOULD AID PRODUCERS AND BUYERS

WASHINGTON, July 4.—(AP)—The movement for a sliding scale tariff on sugar gained momentum today on the strength of the progress made by Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee, in his study of the subject.

Convinced of the feasibility of what he regards as an essential preliminary step, elimination of the 20 percent preferential reduction allowed on Cuban sugar, the Utah Senator has prepared a tentative substitute for the fixed duty.

Instead of the fixed duty of 1.76 cents a pound now levied on Cuban sugar, or the 2.40-cent rate proposed in the house bill which the committee is considering, his plan calls for a sliding scale from one cent to 2.40 cents (rising as the price of sugar declines, and vice versa).

CITY OF CLEVELAND IS HOURLY NEARING ENDURANCE RECORD

PILOTS MITCHELL AND NEWCOMB IN AIR NEARLY SIX DAYS ON ATTEMPT

CLEVELAND, July 4.—(AP)—The airplane, City of Cleveland, today continued to wing its way over the airport here in an effort to establish a world's record for planes refueled.

At noon today the plane had been in the air 138 hours. Early this morning 75 gallons of gasoline were taken aboard from the refueling plane.

Pilots Roy L. Mitchell and Byron K. Newcomb in notes dropped said "All's well."

Late this afternoon the City of Cleveland, the refueling plane and observers, which are governing the flight, will go to Akron, refueling over the airport in that city.

To attain the record of the Fort Worth flight, 172 hours, 32 minutes and one second, the City of Cleveland must remain in the air until midnight Friday. The pilots have set a 200-hour mark as their goal.

CLEVELAND, O., July 4.—(AP)—Disregarding hazards that for a time seemed to threaten the blimp monoplane, City of Cleveland, Pilots Roy L. Mitchell and Byron K. Newcomb wheeled about Cleveland airport today in a trying battle against hope and fatigue as they approached by little better than one day the world's record for refueled endurance flights.

Tonight they come within 24 hours, 32 minutes and one second, of the world's record of 172 hours, 32 minutes and one second, established recently in Fort Worth by Reginald Robbins and James Kelley.

Newcomb and Mitchell have flown above the airport here since 6:38:51 Friday night—six days at the same hour this evening. They cruised in their monotonous circle today, aiming at a record exceeding by at least one hour the mark which faced them when they took off almost a week ago.

Roaming the Realm of County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN.

Numerous baseball games were played Independence day in surrounding communities, with the double header in Chatfield the highlight attraction. The first game was between the Chatfield and Embouse Independents with the Corsicana Rinkies-Dinks and Bazetts playing the finale.

Considerable excitement has been shown in the Texas league race the past few days. Tuesday afternoon, the club wners decided to split the season. This drew a vigorous protest from Shreveport when Dallas was awarded the first half by a half game margin. The next big break was the news of Jake Atz, for many years pilot of the Fort Worth Panthers, had been supplanted by Frank (Pancho) Snyder, former boss of the Houston Buffs. Rumors are now afloat in baseball circles that Jackie Atz will go to Chicago as manager of the White Sox.

The Fourth of July, for many years accounted as the deciding point in the Major league season, finds the Philadelphia Athletics way out in front in the American league, while the Chicago Cubs are having a hard time keeping a slim advantage over the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National league. If the time honored proverb holds true that the club ahead on July 4th, cops the pennant, the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago Cubs will play in the world series. However the Cub's lead in the National league is decisive enough to cause the rest of the clubs to figure on second, third and fourth money in the American league, if nothing terrible happens to upset the team which Connie Mack declares as great as the 1915 aggregation, the Athletics will play in the world series.

Next Sunday afternoon, the Magnolia-Millers and the Blooming Grove Independents play at the Municipal park at 3:30. This will be the fourth meeting of the two teams, Blooming Grove holding the series advantage on the first three games by beating the Mag-Millers 8-7 on their home lot in the first scrap, losing the second 1-0, in a sensational game at the Municipal park and winning the third 3-1 last Sunday afternoon. The Mag-Millers are practicing for the game and are out to even the series at two all.

SEARCHING ICE SLOPES OF MOUNT RANIER THURSDAY FOR BODY OF FORMER HI COACH

PARADISE INN, Rainier Natl. Park, Wash., July 4.—(AP)—The ice slopes of Mount Ranier were searched today for Forrester Greathouse, Seattle high school football coach, who with five others plunged down a crevasse at the 13,000 foot level Tuesday.

Edwin Wetzel, young Milwaukee attorney, was killed, and Greathouse was believed to have lost his life. Three of the remaining four were injured. The four who escaped death are L. H. Brigham of Seattle; Robert Strobel of Tacoma; D. Yancey Bradshaw of Cambridge, Mass., and E. P. Weatherly of Kansas City, Mo.

First news of the tragedy came here when Strobel reeled into a camp at Muri. Charles Brown, government ranger, set out alone from Paradise Inn and located Brigham, Weatherly and Bradshaw by mountain guides and brought down with great difficulty.

Brigham said he and the five others had climbed to the peak of Ranier, 14,408 feet above sea level, and were coming down the mountain tandem fashion, each tied to a single rope. The accident occurred when all six were creeping along a treacherous icy trail. Strobel slipped, then Wetzel, who had collapsed on the ascent. Then the entire party was pulled over a ledge and fell several hundred feet down the crevasse.

Strobel managed to catch and cling to a ledge about 30 feet above the others but the line holding Wetzel broke and he rolled about half a mile down the frozen steep. Greathouse fell below the other four and was crushed by a huge piece of ice.

Brigham said he and the other three men soon recovered from the fall, and that he chopped Greathouse free of the ice, but the latter seemed to have been dying. Strobel finally got a foothold in the ledge above the main party and made his way back to the trail.

When we started down from the rim I wondered how we'd ever make it," Weatherly said. "But it was impossible to stay at the summit. There was no shelter and we would have frozen. There are some steam caves up there, but if we had taken refuge near them, our clothing would have frozen stiff as soon as we tried to leave."

Wetzel had been virtually played out ever since the blizzard started when we were about 1,000 feet from the top. Brigham was dragging him along and we were all crawling most of the time. On the way down all of us were slipping. We couldn't see anything.

PROGRESS BEING REPORTED TOWARD FLIGHT TO BERLIN

CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S AMPHIBIAN PLANE MAY MAKE GREENLAND THURSDAY

CHICAGO, July 4.—(AP)—Two radio messages told the Chicago Tribune today its amphibian plane, the "Untin" bowler, had taken off from Remi Lake, Ont., which it reached yesterday, for Great Whale river, about 400 miles north, on the second leg of its projected flight to Berlin.

The first message, signed "Wood," stated the takeoff was at 5:58 a. m. Robert Wood, aviation editor of the Tribune, is a passenger on the flight. The second message, timed 6:45 a. m. and signed "Cramer," said the flying conditions were ideal. Parker D. Cramer is co-pilot and navigator.

Wood previously had radioed that weather conditions were found favorable upon the plane's arrival in Great White, a small trading post in the Hudson Bay country, an attempt probably would be made to reach Greenland late tonight.

Fuel was placed aboard the plane at Remi lake, where a provincial government forestry aerial patrol station is located. Remi lake is eight miles from Moonbeam.

Perfect flying weather prevailed as the plane turned its nose into the far north with its engines working perfectly and its crew of three confident their craft would carry them through the barren northlands.

There are no radio stations at Great White but the aviators will have their own wireless as a means of communicating with civilization when they reach the Hudson Bay settlement, 400 miles from Lake Remi.

Germany Preparing For Untin Bowler

BERLIN, July 4.—(AP)—Fascinated by the Untin Bowler's slogan, "Berlin or Bust," Germans are eagerly following the big amphibian's initial hops, and preparing to give the plane a royal reception when it reaches German territory.

The Luftwaffe is already making every preparation at Tempelhof air field, where the Untin Bowler is expected to land. All air stationers are being advised to keep a lookout for her as well as to listen for signals. The Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd steamship companies have issued similar instructions to their respective fleets, and bridge we had crossed on the way up when Bob Strobel stumbled. None of us had secure footing and with Wetzel being a dead weight, too, we all went at once.

"I remember sliding and then falling. It took only a second, and I was sure everything was all up. My leg was caked with ice. Brigham and Yancy (Bradshaw) chipped it off before they left."

"We didn't do any talking—any of us—or say anything about coming out together. When Bob Strobel got to the top he called back, 'I've found a way out,' but that's the only statement that was made."

"We were all tied together when we landed, but I was hanging on a shelf about 15 feet above the rest. Then we all climbed out one by one. I understand Brigham and Bradshaw made the trip down together."

Weatherly said it was impossible to bring Greathouse out of the crevasse because of his great weight and the extremely dangerous footing. He paid tribute to the guides, saying that without his assistance Wetzel would have been forced to give up 1,000 feet from the top.

"Brigham certainly did a man's work. He deserves all the credit in the world."

the wave length and call letters of the plane have been made public so radio fans throughout the country will be able to adjust their instruments accordingly.

The newspapers prominently display all possible news of the big Sikorsky's flight.

In response to alarming reports that Washington thought it strange the German government had not yet granted to the Untin Bowler's crew permission to enter German territory, it was stated at the ministry of transportation the fliers would encounter no difficulty, even if they land without passports or any other papers.

"There would be no more trouble on that score than in the case of Chamberlain and Levine, who came down in Germany after their trans-Atlantic flight without any credentials whatever," said one official.

owners of the use of thousands of dollars of radio equipment and yet the objectionable mechanism be operated within the present legal rights. Can the police powers of the government be extended to regulate the use of radio we can purchase and the sort of mechanical devices we can operate? Can the government constitutionally dictate to us what we can transmit or receive by means of wireless transmissions? If so, with what limitations?

"It is with a sense of satisfaction," the speaker said, "that our association reflects upon its further initiative in bringing about legislation in this state resulting in the establishment of a civil judicial council with the duty to make a continuous study of the organization, procedure and practice of the courts and to report the various branches of the judicial system, with recommendation for their improvement. This section, while following a number of other states, has placed Texas in an advanced position in the matter of improving its jurisprudence.

"The existing upward tendency in the standards of education for lawyers and judges, as a prerequisite to admission to the bar, reminds us that Texas must be watchful lest it become the dumping ground and its people the prey and victims of unqualified lawyers.

"An incompetent lawyer patronized affords opportunity for great economic loss. The competition for a livelihood which confronts the advocate or counselor standing temptation for him to wither the bonds of the law's standard of ethics. xx.

"The subject of judicial salaries must be one of continuous solicitation on the part of our membership. Without adequate compensation the state cannot secure necessary talent. When we are physically ill we insist upon the best doctors who charge us according to their skill and prestige. We should exercise equal precaution in dealing with those who have their care matters involving our reputation, lives, liberties and property interests. A study of the report of the committees of the American Bar association on judicial salaries reflects that our state is not taking care of its best interests in this respect. xx.

"Since our last meeting the country has been confronted with the startling realization that there exists in the larger cities a well organized band of law violators comparable to which the Apaches of Paris are models of civic virtue. They have been designated as "The Racket." The merchant in Chicago whose place of business was recently dynamited expressed surprise for the reason that he was paying tribute to every racket which had solicited him. The competition among the rackets has resulted in wholesale killings. We console ourselves perhaps, with the thought that the homicides are confined principally to the racketeers themselves, but it is not infrequent that some faithful servant of enforcement and agent of law and order has his life taken only because he has tried to do his duty. The example set by cheapens human life. Constitutional rights are set at naught. The late successful candidate for president, recognizing the demand of the people for efficient law enforcement agencies, incorporated a declaration in his platform for election. The face that the people placed him in office by the heaviest vote in American national elections is at least suggestive that the great majority of our people are still loyal to the concepts of freedom and its concomitant privileges of self-determination. The legal profession should as a matter of pride, initiate and support the movements for the observance of the people's will. If they fail to do outraged public sentiment," this they may pay the penalty in

NEBRASKA WOMAN NAMED PRESIDENT EDUCATION BODY

ATLANTA, July 4.—(AP)—Official announcement was made before the representative assembly of the National Educational association in convention here today that Miss Ruth E. Pyrtle, of Lincoln, Neb., had been elected president. Miss Pyrtle received 674 votes to 211 for Miss Effie McGreggor, principal of the John Burroughs school of Minneapolis.

W. A. James, of Austin, Texas, was elected a vice-president.

The board of directors voted to recommend Columbus, Ohio, to the executive committee, for the 1930 convention.

ATLANTA, July 4.—(AP)—Election of Miss E. Ruth Pyrtle of Lincoln, Neb., as president of the National Educational association today awaited formal confirmation by officials of the 1929 convention.

Published reports of the unofficial returns from yesterday's balloting, gave Miss Pyrtle approximately 500 representative assembly votes against 175 for Miss Effie McGreggor of Minneapolis.

Ten of the 11 vice-presidencies, for which there were 17 candidates, and for state directors, proceeded, with results to be announced today. Election of Mrs. Julia F. Hunter, Fort Worth, Texas, as president of the department of class room teachers was declared assured, as was the choice of J. L. Harmon, Bowling Green, Ky., as president of the department of business education.

The convention entered the final day of its six day session today with an address by Secretary Arthur M. Hyde of the agriculture department to be heard.

Farmers Defended Before Educators

ATLANTA, July 4.—(AP)—Secretary Hyde told the National Educational association today "a place of economic equality and opportunity for the American farmer" must be found. "There are, happily, many thousands of prosperous farmers,"

TUMULTUOUS WELCOME GREETSPANISH FLYERS AND THEIR BRITISH RESCUERS IN MADRID

MADRID, Spain, July 4.—(AP)—The Spanish trans-Atlantic fliers and the five British officers of H. M. S. Eagle who saved them after being seven days lost in mid-Atlantic near the Azores came to Madrid together on a special train from Algeciras today to be greeted with an ovation such as this capital rarely has seen. Madrid sleeps late ordinarily, but today at dawn thousands were crowded around the railway station waiting to see Major Ramon Franco, his three companions and their British rescuers, when finally the train arrived from Algeciras, a small train opposite Gibraltar, they broke through the police lines and crowded onto the station platform.

The human avalanche swept aside the train porters, employees, and passengers attempting to alight, and kicked luggage from the platform. Their roars drowned out other sounds, even the engine whistles and the brass bands. The large official representation which had planned a dignified greeting was left in the shuffle.

Outside the station the crush was just as bad, with the crowds extending back solidly for half a mile. The aviators and the British guests, who included Captain Laurence, D. S. O., and Lieutenant R. A. Kilgore of the Eagle were shoved through to automobiles which drove them to the Palace hotel.

Major Ramon Franco, Major Eduardo Gonzalez Gallaz, Captain Luis Ruiz De Alda, and Sergeant Pedro Madariaga were picked up by the Eagle last Saturday near the Azores, seven days after they crashed down through lack of fuel in the midst of a trans-Atlantic flight attempt from Cartagena, Spain, to New York.

ALLEGED FIFTY THOUSAND GALLONS WHISKEY STOLEN FROM BONDED WAREHOUSE

CHICAGO, July 4.—(AP)—The Tribune said today that 50,000 gallons of bonded whiskey, estimated at bootleg prices to be worth $2,000,000, has been stolen from the Sibley avenue warehouse, government concentration depot for this midwest.

The thefts, said the paper, have been going on for a year, and an investigation has been under way in Washington for a month. The Tribune's information was to the effect that an 84 page typewritten report was in the hands of Dr. James Doran, prohibition commissioner.

The report was said to have stated that 138 barrels of whiskey had been tampered with and 543 barrels had been found to contain colored water instead of whiskey. Dr. Doran was quoted by the Tribune as saying in Washington that the investigation was "about completed."

"I don't know just how many barrels are affected," the newspaper reported him as saying. "It is estimated that 500 barrels were tampered with, but I think that many were removed. There are 3,000 to 4,000 barrels in the warehouse."

Will Forfeit Whiskey. WASHINGTON, July 4.—(AP)—Prohibition Commissioner Doran announced today that action to forfeit 421 barrels of whiskey, which had been tampered with in the bonded warehouse of the Sibley Warehouse company in Chicago, would be started at once by the prohibition bureau. The action is the result of an investigation into the disappearance of whiskey which had been stored in the warehouse.

The Sibley warehouse, Commissioner Doran said, contains whiskey from thirty or forty distilleries throughout the country which had been sent there for four or five years. He declared there were several places in which the liquor could have been removed from the barrels besides the warehouse.

The bureau moved to libel the 421 barrels which had been tampered with to prevent any of the diluted whiskey from being sold for medicinal purposes and will destroy it as soon as the courts grant the libel action.

he said, "but agriculture as a whole has had too small a share of national prosperity. This nation cannot afford to view with complacency any inequality among the old people."

The answer to agricultural problems is not to be found in any single scheme of assistance, he held, but measures such as the tariff, development of inland waterways and other cheap transportation, and research to find new markets and new uses for farm products will be generally beneficial. Further development of reclamation projects, he declared, "should await the time when such action is economically necessary."

ROAD CELEBRATION BARBECUE BE HELD FRIDAY, JULY 12TH

COMMITTEES MET AT WILD- CAT FERRY WEDNESDAY AND ARRANGED DETAILS

The definite date for the big Corsicana-Palestine picnic to be given in celebration of the designation of the East and West Texas State Highway, will be at Wild Cat Ferry Friday, July 12. Plans for all arrangements for the event, including the program for the day, were decided upon Wednesday at a joint meeting of committees from Corsicana, Palestine and Eureka, held at Wild Cat Ferry.

The big picnic will be an all-day celebration and is to be held at a beautiful pecan grove on the Anderson county side of Trinity river, where there will be plenty of shade, cool drinking water and plenty of open space for the big crowd that will enjoy the day. The committee estimates that there will be 5000 people at the picnic, due to the importance of the celebration and the ideal location midway between Corsicana and Palestine, with an extraordinary dinner that will be served to all who attend.

It was estimated that there would be at least 1000 people from Corsicana and the same number from Palestine, with some 3000 visitors from many points between the two cities.

Bountiful Picnic.
Prior to going into committee session to discuss the plans for the picnic, the Palestine committee served the joint committees with an elaborate spread under the trees on the banks of the Trinity, which included old-fashion squirrel stew, chicken pie, country ham, East Texas onions and tomatoes and all accessories, and last, but not least "hot cat fish," the forty-pound channel cat fish the Palestine boys claimed they caught, but after a close investigation, it was found it was bought from an old East Texas fisherman who caught the fish ten miles down the river.

It was a delightful occasion and those East Texas pioneer picnickers and squirrel stewers and fishermen (?) were lavish in their hospitality, for which they have been famed for many years.

The Navarro county professional squirrel stewers consisting of J. N. Edens, R. J. Jackson of Corsicana, and J. A. Bonner and Walter Montgomery of Eureka, were present for the meeting, and were surprised that Anderson county also had progressive road builders that knew what squirrel stew was and how to make it.

Business Transacted.
Following the renewal of friendships, and the feast which was interspersed by cool local showers, the meeting of the committees was called together by R. J. Jackson, chairman of the Corsicana committee. On motion of R. E. Montgomery of Palestine and by unanimous vote, R. J. Jackson was elected as chairman of the celebration on the 12th, who will preside over the program for the day.

It was also voted that the following program be carried out for the day:

Man of the Day—R. J. Jackson of Corsicana.
Speeches—Hon. Cone Johnson of the state highway department, main speaker, followed by short addresses from Hon. Jewel P. Lightfoot of Fort Worth, Judge Hayne Nelms, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce of Groveton, Texas; Judge H. C. Nash of Navarro county, and Judge E. H. Shelton of Anderson county.

Barbecue Experts.
The barbecue will be under the direction of J. A. Bonner, Walter Montgomery and W. H. Cockrell of Eureka, all of the beef, mutton and pork being furnished by Corsicana, with all other accessories, etc., furnished by Palestine, the serving of

ONE OFFICER DEAD, ANOTHER WOUNDED IN GUN BATTLE WITH MAN IN SPRINGFIELD HOTEL

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, July 4.—(AP)—One policeman was killed and another was critically wounded in a gun battle in a hotel today with a man who was wounded and later captured sixty miles away as he sought to escape in an automobile which caused police to enter his room to question him concerning his ownership.

The man registered at the hotel yesterday as K. L. Vari, Toledo, Ohio. The officers were found lying in his room after the shooting. Detective Oliver Holderby, dead of three bullet wounds, and his partner, Howard Roush, unconscious with four wounds in the body.

Capture of the gunman followed his attempt to obtain medical treatment at South Charleston, where a physician notified police. The prisoner bore three bullet wounds.

The dinner to be under the direction of Palestine with H. R. Dietz as chairman. Mr. Dietz who is experienced in handling big picnics, will be assisted by 25 men and women from Palestine, with a like number from Corsicana. Other committees are to be appointed to have the parking of automobiles in charge, concessions and such like.

It was decided to have another meeting of the committees from the two counties next Tuesday at the same location at which time all affairs of the committees in charge of the picnic for July 12 will be checked up on preparatory to the celebration.

Eureka to Be Host.
Eureka will be host for this committee meeting next Tuesday with J. A. Bonner, Walter Montgomery, W. H. Cockrell and others in charge. Chairman Bonner of the barbecue committee announced that he wanted to demonstrate to the committee from Navarro and Anderson counties that the Eureka folks knew how to barbecue meat to their liking, and that Eureka would "strut its stuff" at the next committee meeting Tuesday by having barbecued mutton, and all other necessary accessories which he claimed would surpass the feast given by the Corsicana and Palestine committees. The committee accepted Mr. Bonner's invitation to be present at the next meeting on Tuesday.

The members of the Anderson county committee who were present and were hosts for the day were Judge E. H. Shelton, J. L. Gatewood, Dr. J. N. Gee, W. M. McInnes, H. R. Dietz, G. W. Harris, Max Morrow, R. E. Montgomery, Miles Derden, J. C. Harding, A. G. Godley, E. Gatewood, Willard Johnson, S. E. Reed. Also young Pete and Ed Montgomery, sons of R. E. Montgomery of Palestine, and Homer Jester, Jr., of Corsicana were present at the picnic.

The Corsicana committee consisted of R. J. Jackson, J. S. Murchison, Roy Christian, J. E. Butler, Guy Gibson, J. N. Edens, S. J. Jackson, Gus Young, W. J. Cheney, Lowry Martin.

The committee from Eureka, J. A. Bonner, Walter Montgomery, Bonner Bros., W. H. Cockrell and Mr. Robbins.

Police were unable to advance any motive for the attack.

Fourteen Rebels Reported Killed in Four-Hour Fight

Showers Falling Over County Are Of Much Benefit
Local showers have fallen over Navarro county during the past two or three days and have served to keep the temperature down considerably and to furnish enough moisture to keep the top soil moist and prevent it from drying out rapidly.

The rainfall in Corsicana for the 24 hour period ending at 7 o'clock Thursday morning was .29 of an inch.

ATLANTAN WINS MATCH.
INDIANAPOLIS, July 4.—(AP)—Bryant M. Grant, Atlanta, Ga., first ranking player in the Southern Association, today eliminated Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, Iowa, from the national clay court singles tennis championship tournament here in the fourth round. The scores were 6-1, 7-5, 6-2.

MEN WEAR TOO MANY CLOTHES.
NEW YORK, July 4.—(AP)—Men's clothes are three times as heavy as women's. The extension institute weighed the raiment of a dozen men and a dozen women. The women's varied from one pound, six ounces to 3 1-2 pounds, the men's from 6 3-4 pounds to 10 1-4. "The average man" comments Dr. Eugene L. Fish, "is grossly overclothed." COLLEGE FOR DEAF MAY BE PLACED AT MILFORD COLLEGE

FORT WORTH, July 4.—(AP)—Establishing a branch of the North Texas Agricultural college at Arlington for the benefit of deaf persons or taking over the buildings of the Milford college for girls at Milford as a deaf institution, was under consideration today by the annual convention of the Texas association of the Deaf here. Advocating establishment of the branch at Arlington, District Attorney Bob Stuart, formerly a state senator, appeared before the convention.

"The establishment already is there and all it would take would be the creation of a department for the deaf," he said.

Ray Holder of Milford, member of the legislature, told the convention the college for girls of his city would desert the buildings because of a consolidation of Presbyterian colleges and the Presbyterian church is willing for a deaf institution to be created there. He

TEXAS GIRL FACES EIGHTH CHARGE IN LOS ANGELES COURT

DETAINED ON FORGERY CHARGE AFTER VISITING STATION ABOUT SISTER

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 4.—(Sp.)—Rudell Heath, 20, Dallas and Jackson, Tex., walked into the police station here today to settle a dispute over her 16-year-old sister found herself booked on an eighth charge for law violation during her brief but stormy residence here.

With Miss Heath was Garrett H. Rider, who said he had a letter from Miss Heath's mother, now in Jackson, asking him to return the younger sister, Bernice, to her home. Rudell Heath, Rider said, objected, and they agreed to let police decide the question.

Miss Rudell Heath, while in the station, was arrested on a suspicion of forgery on a complaint issued in June, 1928.

On Jan. 1, 1928, she was arrested in Hollywood for shooting at a boy friend. She pleaded guilty to simple assault, the shots not having taken effect, and was fined $1. She has been fined for attempting to steal a hat from a department store, driving while intoxicated, hit-run driving, failure to render aid after accident involving an automobile of Walter Gregg, actor, served 30 days on an assault and battery charge preferred by Gregg, who alleged she hit him with a milk bottle, and was fined for kicking out the windows in front of a doctor's office.

State Education Department Man in Corsicana Wednesday

Frank Van Winkle of the state department of education, Austin, was in Corsicana Wednesday and Wednesday evening checking on the rural aid high school tuition for Navarro county with Andrew G. Business Suspended By Kerens Merchants In Observance Fourth KERENS, July 4.—(Sp.)—All business houses, with the exception of drug stores, filling stations and garages, which operated only during a part of the day, were closed here Thursday in observance of Independence Day. The postoffice was also closed, no mail being delivered in the city or on the rural routes.

Many of the Kerensites enjoyed outings in the woods and on the lakes while some sojourned to other cities for the day. Visa versa there were quite a large number of motorists from other towns visiting in and around Kerens, some on their way to good fishing places in this sector, and some enjoying the day hunting.

As far as the city was concerned the day passed off quietly, save numbers of people attending the Long Prairie annual picnic which is held for the benefit of the Long Prairie cemetery.

Efforts to Pull Steamer Off Reef Prove Unavailing

SAN PEDRO, Cal., July 4.—(Sp.)—Radio information received here from the coast guard cutter Algonquin last night said efforts of the Algonquin and the tug Sea Rover to pull the coastwise lumber steamer Anne Hanify off the reefs of Honda Bay had failed. The Anne Hanify grounded Monday in heavy fog.

A six foot tide was running while the Algonquin and Sea Rover strainer hawsers in a vain effort to move the stranded vessel. A seven-foot tide is expected tonight when another attempt to pull the Anne Hanify free is to be made.

BANKER'S STORY OF KIDNAPING BELIEVED BY AUTHORITIES

FOUR WARRANTS EXPECTED TO BE SWORN OUT IN CON- NECTION STRANGE CASE

PATERSON, N. J., July 4.—(Sp.)—Passaic county officers today prepared to swear out four warrants charging kidnapping in the strange abduction of William H. Elliott, 37-year-old bank official, who said he was held captive for six days by four unidentified men.

Assistant Prosecutor James M. Dunn after a three-hour conference with Elliott said he was "convinced of the truth" of the banker's statement.

Elliott, for whom a widespread search had been started, was found Tuesday seated in his parked automobile in Nutley and told the police he had been kidnapped at the point of guns while en route in his car last Wednesday from his home in East Orange to the Hobart Trust company at Passaic where he is vice-president and treasurer. Dunn said he believed Elliott's bank connection had nothing to do with the kidnapping.

BIRD PROTECTION PAYS DIVIDENDS.

At this season of the year a stroll over fields and through woods will reveal to the experienced eye the nests of game birds and considerable numbers of young, says Carlos Avery, president of the American Game Protective Association. But in a walk over the same territory in the autumn very few mature birds will be seen. Nature, during the nesting season, had produced the young but what became of the birds. The answer is that to a very considerable extent a majority of the birds, while still helpless fledglings, have been the victim of natural enemies. Certain birds and animals not only destroy vast quantities of eggs, but also prey on the young birds. As you are reading this, countless tragedies are occurring in deep woods and open fields, with nocturnal prowlers despoiling nests and slaying tiny birds. And even in the daylight hours, the slaughter goes on. The courageous but feeble defense of her brood that the mother can offer is futile against the attacks of the cruel bills, claws and teeth of foes. A similar fate is meted out to a very high percentage of small game birds.

The list of offenders includes the crow, the red squirrel, certain kinds of hawks and owls, and other predatory birds and animals. One of the most relentless and destructive enemies of wild game is the house cat, especially if it is a semi-wild, spending most of its time in the open. Not alone are game birds destroyed but also song birds and insectivorous species whose economic value to the farmer is beyond computation. By the killing of the birds that protect the crops of the tiller of the soil from myriad insects, the destroyers of wild life deprive agriculture of its most effective allies in the endless struggle against pests that do more than two billions dollars worth of damage annually and which are a perpetual menace to the food supply of mankind. The menace of four-footed and winged vermin is not, however, the only factor that operates to decrease the available supply of game, though too much stress cannot be given to the necessity of vermin control. The elements also take too high a toll of bird and animal life. Storms destroy vast numbers of birds. Under what, from a game conservation and game restoration standpoint, would be normal conditions comparatively little game would be lost by reason of the effects of the elements. But, owing to agricultural development, with the consequent clearing out of the natural cover of game, it is left unprotected.

As pointed out by Aldo Leopold, an authority on game and its natural habitat, "What conservationists do not realize is that favorable game environments in the past have been accidental, whereas, from now on they must be built by human hands and brains, for the deliberate purpose of raising a game crop." To meet the situation it is the practice of some farmers to leave cover for game birds or to create it where it does not exist. Besides, a number of farmers plant strips of land with grain and other food to feed the game on their property. Investigations show that such consideration for wild life actually pays dividends, not only in providing sport for the farmer in the hunting season, but also in attracting to his acres untiring protectors of his crops against the devastations of insect pests. A well established fact is that any community that wants game can have it, but

FIRE PREVENTION AN ASSET.

Much has been accomplished in Corsicana during the past few years in the education of the general public in the interest of fire prevention. Each year educational campaigns are launched and successfully carried out the result of which has been preventive measures causing a decrease in fire hazards.

"Besides the sinful waste of property destroyed by preventable fires any city or town may materially reduce the expense carrying protection against fire losses by using ordinary care and holding fire losses to a minimum," it is pointed out in a communication received by the Sun which deals with the local situation concerning fire prevention.

Continuing the subject is discussed more fully as follows: "Corsicana now enjoys a credit of three per cent, this credit is deducted from each insurance premium on policies covering fire insurance on property located within the corporate limits of Corsicana.

"On insurance premiums which according to the regular rate Corsicana property owners are entitled to pay $100.00 the present good fire record credit permits a charge of only $97.00 and it is possible to obtain a fifteen percent credit which would reduce the cost of such a premium to $85. Such a reduction is worth the efforts of our citizens in promoting the fire prevention movement. Cities and towns with bad fire records may be penalized on the same basis. Credits or debits for fire experience are based on three year periods and the credit now applicable to premiums in Corsicana is based on the experience for years 1926-7-8. Our 1928 losses were slightly under $30,000.00, but the year 1925, which we dropped, amounted to about $3,000 less than that figure.

"Losses paid for 1926 amounted to $94,000.00 and losses for 1927 amounted to $142,000.00. Thus it can be seen that with a successful fire prevention campaign for 1929 and 1930 Corsicana's fire insurance premiums can be materially reduced. Your property may be fully insured, but you should remember that every fire loss paid helps to increase the premiums paid by Corsicana property owners.

In closing attention is called to a clause in your fire insurance contract that probably many of us have not read. It pertains to the protecting of fire damaged goods by the owner. "Fire insurance policy contracts provide that the owners of property damaged by fires covered under such policies protect such property from further damage and by so doing you are not only fulfilling your part of the contract but you are preventing the useless destruction," the communication warns.

And in conclusion it is pointed out: "After all the property owners pay the losses through the premium channel and the smaller the losses the less premium we have to pay."

This last sentence should make every resident of Corsicana a strong advocate of and worker for any program whereby fire prevention will result.

After all is said and done the policy holder pays.

THE BE-IT-ENACTED BUSINESS.

Discussing the suggestion of Governor Byrd of Virginia that every legislature should hold a special session for the sole purpose of repealing obsolete laws, the New York Post makes these acute and timely observations:

"It is a formidable fact that laws may die, but they rarely disappear. There are hundreds of enactments written into the statute books that have lost all point and application and are no more than curious monuments to vanquished conditions. Yet they are still on the books and still the law, and once in a while they rise from their open graves to cause confusion and annoyance. No real attempt has been made to lay these ghosts of the past.

"Governor Byrd's proposal recognizes the fact that unless lawmakers become less prodigally productive the citizens will eventually lose a proper sense of their responsibility in a tangled forest of rules and regulations."

It is hardly necessary to say that we are heartily in favor of Governor Byrd's suggestion, although we recognize that there are mighty few legislatures that can be trusted to do a first class job of pruning, as most of them have made a specialty of "loading up" the statute books and would probably take advantage of a special session to prove their theory that no law is so defunct that it cannot be resuscitated and made to work by an injection of Dr. Bunkum's famous legislative serum. Instead of pruning the statute books, they would want to do an intensive job of grafting and tinkering, the inevitable result of which would be an intensification of the evil from which most civilized societies are suffering.

In some remarks which he made just before he retired from the senate that keen eyed and courageous analyst of our social and political conditions, James A. Reed, said:

"We have written upon the statute books of this country over 600,000 laws and the federal government alone has in excess of 10,000. We have forbidden so many things that it is probable that not a single human being over 10 years old has not violated some statute law."

There is something to bite in that statement by a man whose long service at Washington has taught him that our statutes are not made in heaven (as so many good, pious people seem to believe), but in carefully concealed committee rooms where the voice of the people is not allowed to disturb the whisperings of our old friends Special Privilege and Bureaucratic Bunk. It is indeed to be wished that our legislators could take official and prayerful notice of it, but the chances are that it won't shake their confidence in their own omniscience.

And yet in spite of this never-ceasing avalanche of new legislation, observant people will notice that the millennium is still dipping below the horizon which fortifies our belief that not only should there be a drastic pruning of our statute books, but that a perpetual moratorium should be declared on the whole blooming Be-It-Enacted business.

"YOUR COUNTRY—BEAUTIFY IT."

Marion Boyd, a Detroit high school girl, has been awarded the prize in the national wayside beauty slogan contest. The purpose of the award was to bring into use a phrase which would "stimulate interest in the beauty of the countryside and enlist popular support in preserving and beautifying it."

Miss Boyd won over more than 6,000 contestants with the exhortation: "This is your country—beautify it."

She will be given a trip to Washington, where President Hoover will present her with a certificate of award. Whatever may be the influence of the adopted slogan, it was good to engage the thoughts of several thousand young people upon a subject regarding which there is all too little consci-

APPROPRIATIONS MUST BE TRIMMED FROM HIGH POINT

GOVERNOR SAYS SOMEONE MUST STAND AGAINST RISING TIDE STATE EXPENSE

AUSTIN, July 3. (AP)—The senate finance committee threw down the gauntlet to Governor Dan Moody today, shortly after the 41st legislature met in third extra session on the governor's call to reconsider major appropriations after he had vetoed the money bills passed by the second special session.

The committee passed out the same judiciary and emergency bills disapproved by the governor, and increased the $16,496,545 educational bill by $13,500, allowed for a new building at John Tarleton agricultural college, Stephenville. It indicated it would attempt to reduce the departmental bill.

The house without a quorum and adjourned until tomorrow. The senate, with 21 members in attendance, adjourned until Saturday. There were 58 members of the house who registered present. The house cannot organize for the session until it obtains a quorum, and it can only adjourn from day to day.

House Will Not Cut. The finance and appropriation committees of the respective houses began clearing the decks last night by the governor's blue pencil. In the house there was an informal discussion led by Rep. John F. Wallace, chairman of the appropriations committee, during which he was freely and generally predicted the house could not materially reduce its original money bills.

Wallace said the educational appropriation bill was only $151,000 in excess of the measure of two years ago. He said he did not believe it could be decreased appreciably without crippling some of the institutions.

He declared special appropriations authorized by the legislature had run the total up to exceed the income and the major appropriation bills recommended by the house committee were within the revenue.

Speaker W. S. Bacon announced he would leave for his home in Bryan and appointed Rep. Phil Sanders of Nacogdoches to wield the gavel in adjourning the house from day to day until a quorum shows up.

Senator Gus Rusek of Schulenburg was elected president pro tem of the senate. He had been elected president pro tem for the interim yesterday, but his tenure lasted only from sine die adjournment at midnight until the legislature reconvened today so his colleagues put him right back.

AUSTIN, July 3.—(AP)—Its major appropriation bill vetoed by Governor Moody because the grand total exceeded the available revenue, the 41st legislature continuing its labors today, after the chief executive issued a proclamation calling it into third extraordinary session last night.

The governor declared the appropriations passed during the second extra session aggregated $52,549,303, and $2,349,884 for the regular and first called sessions. He said the "maximum rate of taxation allowed under the constitution would yield approximately $49,000,000."

Declaring that "against a rising tide in state expense, some one must stand," Governor Moody pointed out that in 1921, "only eight years ago," the appropriations totaled only $24,419,682.

The legislature learned of the governor's decision to veto the major appropriation bills and call the legislature back immediately after both houses had adopted a free conference report on the educational appropriation bill, calling for the ence in this country. Junk heaps that disfigure the borders of highways upon the improvement of which millions of dollars have been spent; rubbish dumped by the shores of streams and lakes, and litter left upon campsites and picnic grounds, testify to the need of some good teaching in respect for the ordinary decencies.

An Oklahoma Mother Says:

"BLACK-DRAUGHT is a fine medicine to give to children. I use it for me whenever I need to give them a laxative. They don't mind taking it when I make it into a tea, and it quickly relieves constipation and the bad symptoms which come from it. I can recommend it to other mothers, for I have found it useful in my home. When I was a child my mother gave it to me whenever I complained of not feeling well. I have always taken it for upset stomach and constipation. It is about the only medicine I have to take. A few doses of Black-Draught, now and then, keep my system in order. My husband takes it, too. I hardly see how I could keep house without Black-Draught. It has become a standby with us, in keeping the children and ourselves well."—Mrs. Luther Brasfield, Claremore, Okla.

Expenditure of $16,496,545, which brought the grand total for major appropriations to $50,174,071.

Learn of Veto Plans. Committees that went to the executive office to notify the governor that the legislature had completed its work and was ready to adjourn sine die, brought back messages giving news of the governor's decision to disapprove the bills and convene the legislature.

The message was received with mixed feelings. The house sent a second committee to interview the governor with the request he defer to call until Monday, but he had made up his mind and refused.

Senator Tom Pollard of Tyler, chairman of the senate finance committee, speaking to personal privilege, flayed the governor for his action, and Senator A. J. Wirtz of Seguin accused the chief executive of desiring the third extra session so he could advocate a new "legislation" that had been defeated before.

There was only a handful of house members to hear the governor's message, and indications were there would not be a quorum in either branch this week.

No Necessity Exists. Governor Moody said he did not believe a necessity existed for appropriation of the "maximum of state income under the highest tax rate allowed under the constitution."

"I do not believe the people of Texas want the legislature to be regarded or stung in support of its institutions or departments, but I know they want economy practiced by the legislature, the institutions and the department," he said.

"There is no security against extravagance or waste except the fidelity of the public officers and employees. When the amount of money expended in past years in support of the government is considered, I believe that you can adequately provide for all activities of the government and bring the appropriations under the present bills by a large sum of money."

LONG JAIL TERMS GIVEN SLAYERS OF LAREDO REPORTER

LAREDO, July 2.—(AP)—Raymond West and Tomas Hernandez, for years peace officers here, today faced long terms in the penitentiary for the murder of Harry Williams, newspaper reporter, Jan. 18. West was given life, and Hernandez 20 years by a jury which deliberated two hours and 38 minutes last night. They were charged with choking Williams to death in the Commercial hotel and throwing the body in the Rio Grande where it was recovered a month later.

The accused presented an alibi, declaring they were on a stag party at the Love ranch the night of the killing. A girl inmate of the hotel, star witness for the state, testified the officers came to the hotel about 9 p. m. seeking girls to go with them, but that the officers were so drunk the girls would not go. They said the officers cursed them and threatened to jail them, but finally left.

Shortly before midnight, she said, Williams came in with Buck Hood, another reporter, and Hood went to a room. Williams remained seated in the hallway. Soon, she declared, the officers returned and an argument and fight followed. She said she heard the voices of West, Hernandez and another American. Then there was silence, followed by the sound of a departing automobile.

Blue Sky Bill Was Casualty In Second Session

AUSTIN, July 2.—(AP)—Among the casualties of the second called session of the 41st legislature was the blue sky bill designed to replace the one now on the statute books and tighten up regulations governing stock sales.

Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, had the measure drawn by the attorney general's department and made an unsuccessful effort to get it passed by the first called session.

The senate passed it, but it died on the house calendar. A final effort was made to bring it up by unanimous consent, but this failed.

INCREASE SHOWN AUTOMOBILE DEATH RATE PAST MONTH

COMPARATIVE FIGURES SHOW MANY PERSONS MEET DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(Sp)—The Department of Commerce announces that during the four weeks ending June 15, 1929, 78 large cities in the United States reported 602 deaths from automobile accidents. This number (602) compares with 506 deaths during the four weeks ending June 16, 1928. Most of these deaths were the result of accidents which occurred within the corporate limits of the city, although some accidents occurred outside of the city limits.

For comparison, the number of deaths due to automobile accidents within city limits is desirable. Such figures are available for the four-week period ending June 15, 1929, and for the corresponding four-week period of 1928 for all of the 78 cities, the four-week figure in 1929 being 517 as contrasted with 414 for the corresponding four weeks in 1928.

Considering by four-week periods since May, 1925, total deaths from automobile accidents for 78 cities, regardless of place of accident, the lowest total (346) appears for the four-week period ending March 27, 1926, and the highest (771) for the four-week period ending Dec. 29, 1928. The numbers in the 54 periods of four weeks were as follows:

For the 52 week periods ending June 15, 1929 and June 16, 1928, the totals for the 78 cities were 588 and 7,709 and 7,227 which indicate a recent rate of 23.8 per 100,000 population as against an earlier rate of 22.4 or an increase of 6 per cent in the rate in a single year.

Seventy cities reported no deaths from automobile accidents for the last four weeks and the same number of cities reported no deaths from automobile accidents for the corresponding period of 1928.

For the last four-week period reports as to whether deaths occurred from automobile accidents within city limits or outside were received from all of the 78 cities reporting. In these cities in this four-week period, the total number of deaths from automobile accidents was 602 but only 517 of these were due to accidents within city limits.

Huge Demand For Sargon Smashing World's Record

If anyone told you that one single medicine had relieved tens of thousands of suffering men and women in all walks of life of their health troubles and that it had put thousands of other men and women unable to find relief back to work, it would sound impossible, wouldn't it?

But that is just exactly what is happening right here in this state. Not only has it brought them new-found health and strength, but it has given them new energy, new vitality and a new lease on life itself. In many cases, the results have been so remarkable that many people have bought it and sent it to friends in other states, while other thousands have written grateful letters of praise.

The wonderful success that Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills have achieved in only one year's time simply staggers the imagination.

In the state of California alone where it was introduced on April 16 of this year, it has required the astonishing total of nine solid carloads—or more than 200,000 bottles—to supply the demand. Kansas City retailers and wholesalers have sold and distributed over 300,000 bottles in the states of Kansas and Missouri, Minneapolis and St. Paul dealers have received nine entire carloads in five months. The demand in practically every state and section where Sargon has been introduced has been correspondingly large. When national distribution has been completed it will require millions upon millions of bottles to supply the ever-increasing demand for this celebrated medicine.

Back of Sargon's triumph in the drug stores is Sargon's triumph in the homes. Everywhere it has been introduced it has become a household word and it is unquestionable the most widely talked-of medicine in the world today.

When Sargon was first given to the world just one year ago, it was hailed as a triumph in the field of modern medicine. Many well known authorities who watched its development freely predicted that it would become the one great outstanding, health-giving remedy of the age. But the men of science who labored for years to perfect it little dreamed it would become such a great boon to humanity in so short a time.

Sargon may be obtained in Corsicana from McPherson Drug Co., in Kerens from Walker Drug store; in Rice from Rice Pharmacy; in Richland from Brown Drug Co.; in Blooming Grove from Old Corner Drug store, and in Dawson from Loveless Drug Co. (Adv.)

LABOR GOVERNMENT TAKES REINS; KING ABSENT AT OPENING

LITTLE OF SOCIALISTIC NA- TURE IN OUTLINE OF LABOR'S POLICIES

LONDON, July 2. (AP)

—Great Britain's new labor government today formally embarked upon its administration with the opening of parliament, the sixth in the reign of George V. and the presentation of the speech from the throne in which labor's policies were publicly outlined.

The scene in the upper house where the king's speech was read by Lord Chancellor Sankey in front of the empty throne was one of the simplest and quietest in many years. It was the first time since 1900 that parliament had opened in the absence of the sovereign.

Although King George had returned to London yesterday, it was not deemed advisable for him to make the effort of reading the speech himself.

Seated before the vacant seat of his majesty were the royal commission of five acting for the king. In their scarlet and ermine robes they provided the only vivid color in the solemn chamber. On their right sat the Archbishop of Canterbury and six other lords spiritual. Opposite the bishops were perhaps fifty peers in the usual morning dress.

Commons Present. The lord chancellor, president of the commissioners, despatched a message for the commons to attend and when members stood before the bar of lords the five commissioners saluted them by raising their three-cornered black velvet hats three times.

Then while the members of the other chamber stood, Lord Chancellor Sankey, still seated, read and delivered the ministerial declaration. There was absolute silence among those on the floor and in the galleries as the crisp tones revealed labor's administrative program.

General opinion was the speech had little that was startlingly socialistic, and save in a few instances might have been the program of any recently preceding conservative or liberal ministry.

Russian Relations. Among promises made were that there would be efforts toward disarmament, recognition diplomatically and resumption of trade relations of soviet Russia, improvement of unemployment, and investigation of numerous industrial life.

The first sentence of the speech after its introduction was that "my relations with foreign powers continue to be friendly" the address then mentioned favorable conclusion of reparations agreement and preparation for a second conference of governments which should climax its work with arranging for evacuation of the Rhineland.

It said of disarmament: "Conversations have commenced with the ambassador of the United States of America on the subject of naval disarmament in consequence of which it is the earnest hope of my government to insure in co-operation with my governments in the dominions, the government of India and the government of foreign powers, an early reduction of armaments throughout the world."

Liquor Question. One of the most important announcements was that the government intends to tackle the liquor problem, at least by investigation, and has decided to appoint a commission at an early date to examine the whole field of legislation relating to sale and supply of intoxicating liquor.

With the king's speech ended, the commons and lords filed out of the chamber without demonstration. The commons returned to its own hall and the session was suspended until later in the day when debate on the address will begin.

Says Britain Will Stay By Contracts

LONDON, July 2.—(AP)—Premier Ramsay MacDonald, speaking on the debt question during his address in the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne in the house of commons today, said as to the question of some new agreement which would supersede the Dawes plan:

"We shall go back on none of our contracts, but we shall in future arrangements not forget that the just business interest of our nation cannot be sacrificed."

The prime minister dealt extensively with Great Britain's foreign relations, particularly those with America. This government, he said, had two dominating concerns, first, relief of unemployment, and second, peace and security by the cordial co-operation of the nations of the world.

Essential to the latter was a better understanding with America. "So far as American is concerned," continued the premier, "the conversations that have been started are purely of a preliminary and exploratory nature. All our past experience shows how necessary that is, if we are to succeed in an object which I am perfectly certain is common to America and ourselves."

ELDERLY TEXAS LOTHARIO LEAVES TRAIL CONQUESTS

NEW YORK, July 2.—(AP)—An elderly six-foot Texan who is said by the police to have left a trail of at least fifty broken hearts and many empty purses across the continent was held today as a fugitive from Amarillo, Texas.

They said the elderly lothario, who described himself as Charles H. Boyles, 68, was wanted in Texas City on charges of bigamy and $10,000 bond on April 4, 1928.

His arrest, they said, cut short a romance started here with a Brooklyn woman, whom they described as the widow of a banker. They said another Brooklyn woman stopped going with him only after she had spent nearly $7,000 while in his company.

Boyles, when arraigned in Jefferson, Market court, declared he was innocent of the bigamy charge and arrested he had obtained a divorce before the questioned marriage. He was held under a $10,000 bail for a hearing Friday.

Aged Hitch-Hiking Woman Found Dead Near Pool Water

SAFFORD, Ariz., July 4.—(AP)—The ravages of desert sun and thirst today were believed to have ended the hitch-hiking plans of Mrs. Pauline Decourcy, 60, of Apache Junction. Her body was found near a small pool of water in the bed of the Gila river, 40 miles northwest of here.

Mrs. Decourcy had stopped at an Indian trading store at Rice last Friday and from there started out across desert wastes for Oklahoma.

She was believed to have expended her slender water supply and to have reached too late the little pool near where she was found. Her satchel nearby contained $102.50.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Daniels returned Wednesday night from a motor trip to Temple.

ARKANSAS YOUTH CONFESSES MURDER FATHER AT PIGGOTT

PIGGOTT, Ark., July 4.—(7)—George Parker, 15, has confessed he shot and killed his father, Whit Parker, 50, and then tried to farm home to cover the crime.

Although he gave two versions of the actual shooting, it was the belief of Sheriff George A. McNeill the elder Parker came home drunk Tuesday night and threatened to kill his son. The slayer was ordered held on a murder charge.

George told Dr. George Conner, in the presence of the sheriff, he killed his father as the elder Parker approached him cursing with a shotgun in his hands. Later the boy told the sheriff his father chased him out of the house and he returned and shot him through a window.

The boy then said he went to a hiding place and got $20 of his father's money. He next poured kerosene "all over everything in the house."

He had been arrested when he bought new clothes "to go away."

LONE MARINER OFF IN SMALL BOAT FOR TRIP ACROSS OCEAN

BOSTON, July 4.—(7)—The Elsie Mackay, a 16-foot open boat, equipped with a second-hand outboard motor, set forth from this port today for Havre, France. Her lone occupant, David G. Turner, 23-year-old Norwegian, whose chief asset appeared to be pluck, was confident his craft would reach the other side of the Atlantic safely in about two months.

An attempt to get away a few days ago ended abruptly about a mile down the harbor when engine trouble developed.

The boat carried 75 gallons of gasoline which Turner predicted would suffice until he reached St. John's N. F., where he intends to refuel. Turner plans to subsist on canned food. The sky will be his roof at all times. His bedding consisted of a few blankets and a strip of canvas.

Turner had planned to navigate without the aid of a compass but shortly before he left, an admirer presented him with one. His total financial resources were about $50.

ROSENBERG HOTEL DESTROYED; WOMAN IS FATALLY BURNED

CORSICANA BUSINESS DISTRICT THREATENED BY FLAMES ON TUESDAY

Mrs. Nell Ehrhardt, about 45, who was critically injured in the fire which destroyed the Rosenberg building Tuesday morning, died at the Navarro County Hospital Tuesday afternoon at 2:57 o'clock. No funeral arrangements had been perfected at press hour.

One woman was perhaps fatally injured and two volunteer firemen were overcome by smoke and heat in a fire that razed the Rosenberg Hotel and threatened the entire Commerce street business section Tuesday morning. The alarm was sounded about 8:35 and the fire was not brought under control for more than an hour and a half. Estimates on the loss placed the total at more than $50,000.

Mrs. Nell Ehrhardt, of Austin, about 45, who registered at the hotel Monday night, was seriously burned about the arms, body, shoulder and hips, and also suffered the breaking of her right shoulder and large gashes on the forehead, left arm, and other portions of the body. She fainted on the ledge and also "froze" in the window when she came in contact with electric currents. The woman was finally rescued and pulled from the window by Fireman Judge Marr, and was rushed to the Navarro County Hospital, where attending physicians and hospital attendants are working to save her life. The rescuing fireman stated that he was almost unable to bring her from the window due to the electricity which ran through his body. Ehrhardt was touched her. She was rushed to the hospital by the Sutherland ambulance.

Relatives Coming.
A sister of the injured woman is en route to Corsicana from Fort Worth and a son, who resides in Austin, is reported on his way here.

Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, little or no hope is held for her recovery, attending physicians and hospital attendants reported.

Cecil Adams, volunteer fireman, was overcome by the smoke and heat as he left the scene of the fire, falling from the roof of the Rosenberg Hotel. He was rushed to the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic in the Corsicana Funeral Home ambulance, where it was thought that his condition was not serious.

Rumors that several people were trapped in the building brought hundreds to the scene of the fire, and the entire business district was practically vacated and business stopped until the fire had been brought under control.

Starts on Third Floor.
The fire was discovered in one of the rooms on the third floor of the hotel, and Ivan Rosenberg warned the occupants of the rooms after turning on the fire extinguishers. He left the building by jumping to the portico from one of the front windows.

The blaze was swept rapidly through the building and in a few minutes the entire top floor was in flames, cutting off the stairways.

Other occupants of the hotel said that Mrs. Ehrhardt had attempted to gather up her belongings and found herself cut off from means of escape. She went to one of the front windows and then disappeared, coming back to the window in a few minutes, and either could not or refused to jump into the net waiting for her, finally collapsing on the ledge of a window.

Firemen then raised a ladder to the window, and her inert body was finally removed but slipped from Fireman Marr's arms as he attempted to go down the ladder and dropped to the portico.

One Roomer Jumps.
Fred Newman, another of the roomers, escaped by jumping from a third story window to the roof of one of the one-story buildings facing Commerce street. He was treated for slight burns.

Others who were in the building but escaped safely were Mrs. Sophie Vinson and two children, and Blonny, and the four-month-old adopted child of Miss Belle Morris, proprietor of the hotel.

The Rosenberg building was erected in 1900 by the late Ben Rosenberg, and was a three-story brick structure, the two upper stories being used for a hotel and the lower floor was occupied by the Rosenberg Hardware Co.

Almost Total Loss.
The entire building was almost a total loss as the debris collapsed onto the ground floor which had escaped the full force of the flames. Ivan Rosenberg, owner of the building and store, said later in the morning that he was unable to estimate his loss.

Several of the one-story buildings on Commerce street were damaged by water and smoke, and the quarters occupied by the Farmers' Cash Grocery were considerably damaged when a section of the wall collapsed, driving the debris through the roof, and the force of the drive splintering the plate glass windows in the front of the buildings. Water was several inches deep in the building.

Little damage was done to the Lee Drug company, when the east wall of the blazing Rosenberg building collapsed and the plate glass windows on the south side was broken by the concussion. Little or no water damage was done to the stock of goods. It is thought that it will be necessary to retrofit the roof of the building.

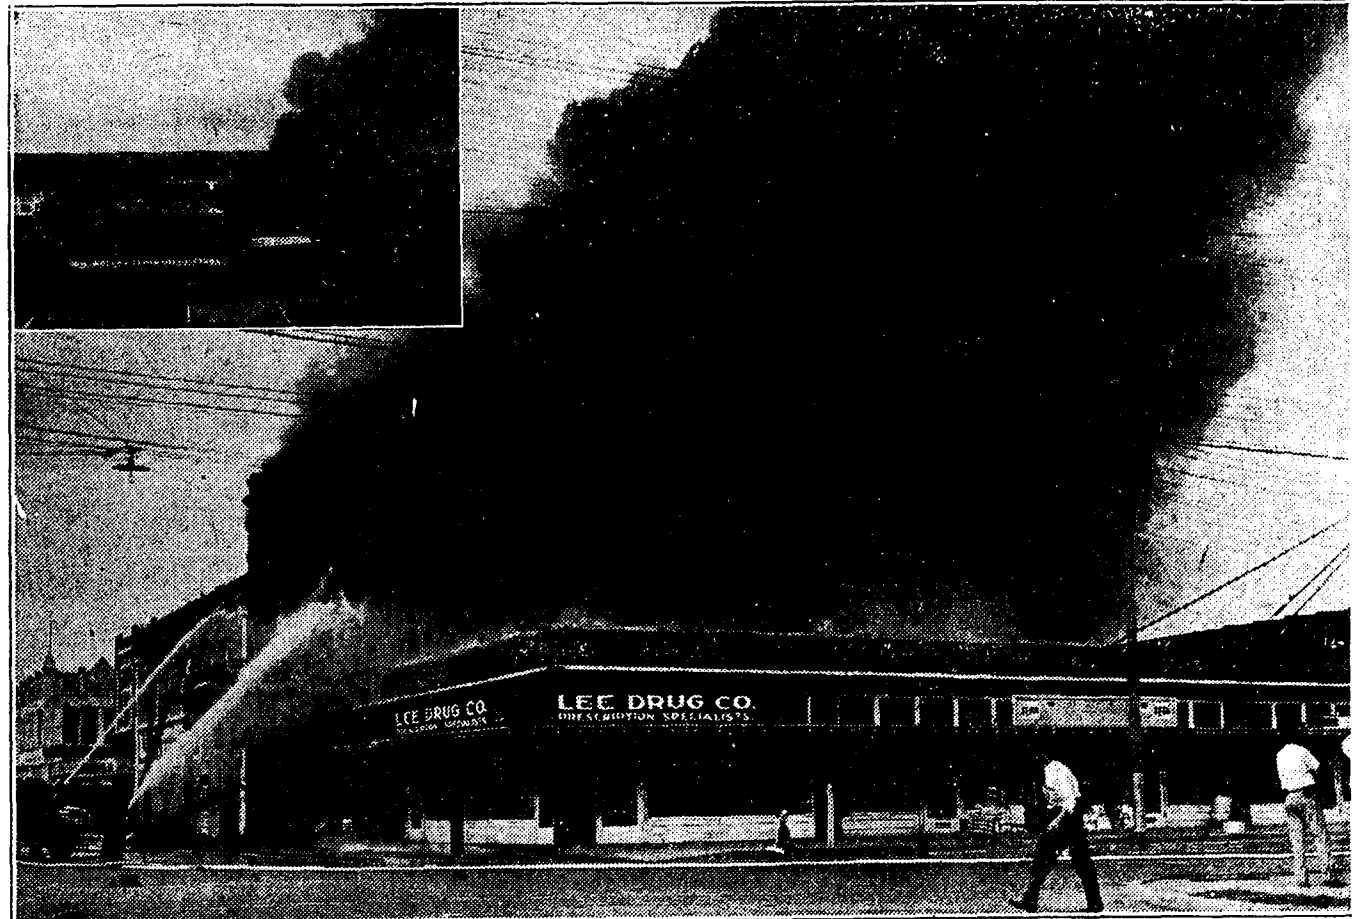

Other Business Damage.
The roof over the Farmers' Cash Grocery was practically wrecked. The roof over the vacant building formerly occupied by the Commerce Furniture company was also considerably damaged.

The R. E. Cox department store suffered slight damage from smoke and probably slight water damage due to the playing of the hose on the building to save it.

The A. E. Walker and Son building across Commerce street was not damaged but a few shingles caught fire and were immediately put out.

At the beginning of the fire, the attention of the firemen was directed in the saving of the occupants of the blazing inferno and for a time it looked as if the entire block would be destroyed. The water pressure was not strong at

TWO VIEWS OF FATAL HOTEL FIRE TUESDAY

One life was lost and several were injured when the Rosenberg hotel was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The property damage is estimated to exceed $50,000. A part of the business district was threatened for a time but the flames were confined to the one building. The large photograph was taken by C. J. Risen, commercial photographer, and the small view was snapped by Dr. R. C. Curtis from the State National Bank building.

BODY HOTEL FIRE VICTIM FORWARDED TO FORT WORTH

A complete check on the damage and havoc occasioned Tuesday when the Rosenberg hotel and building was destroyed and adjoining buildings damaged by one of the most spectacular fires in the history of Corsicana had not been completed by insurance adjusters, fire officials and owners of the first, but when the pressure increased the fire department quickly confined the fire to the Rosenberg building.

Had the blaze been fanned by a strong wind, it is probable that a considerable portion of the business district in that vicinity would have been razed.

Large Crowd Gathers.
One of the largest crowds in recent years was present to watch the conflagration and the news quickly spread that some were still trapped in the building.

All of the fire department equipment, including the hook and ladder truck were rushed to the scene of action and all of the pumps were going at full speed. A number of volunteer firemen worked for hours in the scorching heat.

The ambulances of the Sutherland, Corley-McMahon and Corsicana Funeral homes were rushed to the scene.

Delmore F. Olsen, Daily Sun reporter, was also overcome by smoke and received treatment at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic. He was reported resting well Tuesday afternoon.

Ennis Sends Assistance.
A fire truck and five firemen from Ennis responded to a call sent them.

Fire Chief Elmer Keith stated that the apparent shortage of water at the beginning of the fire was occasioned by the eight lines of hose connected to the main which exhausted the supply in the mains before the water began running and that this condition was frequently experienced.

The fire department was complimented by a number of the business men in the vicinity of the fire for the manner in which the fire was confined to the one building. Had the east wall of the Rosenberg building not fallen, little damage would have resulted, other than to the one building.

Judge Marr, fireman who finally reached Mrs. Ehrhardt, was under treatment from a physician Tuesday afternoon. The muscles of his legs and shoulders were badly stiffened by the heavy charge of electricity passing through him as he pulled the woman from the ledge.

stores and properties, Wednesday morning, but the loss will approximate at least $45,000, and will likely pass that figure.

The body of Mrs. Nell Ehrhardt, 43, of Austin, who died Tuesday afternoon in the county hospital from burns and other injuries sustained in the fire Tuesday morning, was forwarded early Wednesday morning to Fort Worth, her former home, where interment will likely be made sometime Friday.

The body was sent to Fort Worth on the early Southern Pacific Lines train Wednesday morning by the Corley-McMahon Funeral home.

Mrs. Ehrhardt is survived by a son who resides in Austin, her mother, Mrs. Mary McCarthy, of Fort Worth; two sisters, Mrs. H. C. Jones of Fort Worth and Mrs. Geo. West of Fort Smith, Arkansas; two brothers, C. A. and John McCarthy, both of Fort Worth and other relatives.

Returned For Effects.
Mrs. Ehrhardt apparently was overcome with smoke while attempting to escape after she had returned into the building after some of her personal effects. She was wedged, apparently, on the ledge of the third story building and was "frozen" to a live electric wire.

The dying woman was rushed to the Navarro county hospital where medical attention was administered. Death occurred a few minutes before 3 o'clock.

The fire Tuesday morning was one of the most spectacular in the history of Corsicana and within a short time, several thousand spectators lined the street and witnessed the attempts to rescue the woman from window and other inmates of the blazing structure. Rumors that a number of bodies were in the building spread quickly and it was thought for a time that there were several children in the burning mass which added to the excitement of the spectators and officials.

The fire was confined to the Rosenberg building but considerable damage was done to the adjacent buildings to the east when a large section of the east wall collapsed, crashing through the roofs with a detonation and plate glass windows in nearby stores were shattered by the concussion.

All of the ambulances of the city were rushed to the fire zone.

Several Others Injured.
Fred Newman, one of the roomers of the hotel, received severe burns on the hands and other portions of the body. He escaped from the burning building via one of the east windows.

George Murdoch, a volunteer fireman, was burned about the left hand. Delmore Olsen, Daily Sun reporter, was overcome by the heat and smoke after leaving the fire, and was taken to a hospital where he remained during the night.

PURSLEY WOMAN DIED IN LOCAL HOSPITAL TUESDAY

Mrs. Alice Alsobrook, 57, of the Pursley community, died at the Navarro county hospital Tuesday morning at 6:30 o'clock following an illness of six weeks.

Surviving are her husband, Jas. Alsobrook, three sons, seven daughters, one half-brother, Albert Smith, Harwood, Texas, and numerous other relatives.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at Pursley. Sutherland's Funeral Home will have charge of the funeral.

Damage Will Run High.
The Rosenberg building is valued at $35,000, and is practically a total loss. Insurance in the amount of $27,000 was carried. The contents were valued at $10,000, but no definite amount of damage has been ascertained, but a large part has been damaged and much of the hardware will be salvaged at a considerable loss. The loss to the building and stock and furnishings is estimated at approximately $40,000.

The Farmers' Cash Grocery building received the brunt of the collapsing wall and the roof was crashed in. The water is several inches deep in the building Wednesday and a majority of the stock has been damaged and much of the hardware will be salvaged at a considerable loss. The loss to the building and stock and furnishings is estimated at approximately $40,000.

The R. E. Cox Department store building is owned by Rosenberg and the damage to the building is estimated at $100 and the smoke damage to the stock at about $250.

Other Losses.
The Collin Grocery company and a vacant building adjacent to the south suffered a considerable loss. The vacant building roof was caved in by the collapse of the wall. Several hundred dollars damage to the Collin stock, at least $600, is expected as considerable flour, feed and other commodities were water soaked.

For a time the entire northeastern business district of Corsicana was threatened and a pumper and five firemen of Ennis responded to the aid of the local department. The firemen from Ennis was appreciated. W. P. Brown, fire and police commissioner, stated Tuesday afternoon, and showed a good spirit.

GENTRY ATTENDED TERRACING MEETING IN DALLAS COUNTY

Henry Gentry, county agent, spent Monday afternoon and night at the special school of terracing held at the Hollandale farm near Dallas, at which farm experts from all over the state were to exchange ideas. Conservation experts of the United States department of agriculture are scheduled on the program.

This two-day summer farm land conservation program is being sponsored by the Black Land Land Terracing committee of which T. C. Richardson, field editor of the Farm and Ranch, is secretary. This campaign applies particularly to the counties of Navarro, Bell, McLennan, Ellis, Dallas, Collin, Tarrant, Cooke and Grayson.

It is proposed to have a united terracing campaign in these counties after the small grain harvest, beginning July 1 and running through August on stubble lands, renewed after cotton harvest, row crops. The objectives are to conserve the soil and moisture thereby increasing crop yields and retaining productivity of the farms by: First, proper terracing to hold the soil. Second, crop rotation to reduce cotton root rot and increase yields; Third, by emphasizing livestock to balance the farm budget and utilize home grown feed.

The campaign is being sponsored by agricultural agents, farm organizations, chambers of commerce and farm newspapers. Mr. Gentry will give a review at the Hollandale meeting of the work done in Navarro county.

Four Persons
Burned Severely
In Farm Home

PONCA CITY, Okla., July 2.—(AP)—Three persons were burned severely and one probably fatally in a fire which destroyed the farm house of Jim Poorhorse, North-west of Marland today.

All of the injured, members of the Poorhorse family, were rushed to a Ponca City hospital where little hope was held for the recovery of Winifred, five-year-old girl. Other members of the family were Jim Poorhorse, the father; Ella, the mother, and Floyd, 3-year-old son.

The blaze occurred when the mother attempted to start a fire in the kitchen stove with kerosene. The oil exploded.

U. S. EMPLOYMENT
AGENT IS CHECKING
FARM LABOR NEEDS

F. N. Gooding, special agent of the farm labor division of United States employment service, with division headquarters in Fort Worth, visited the local chamber of commerce Monday morning to get a line on the county's needs of cotton pickers during the season.

Roy Christian, secretary of the chamber of commerce, stated today.

This division of the United States farm labor service co-operates with the various cotton growing states each year, helping them with their needs. Last year their special agent had an office with the chamber of commerce, Mr. Christian stated.

Mr. Gooding stated he thought that cotton picking would be well under way in the southern belt about July 15. He also asserted that there will be plenty of negro help, but there is a scarcity of Mexican helpers.

FLOWERS, SHRUBS AND TREES

PRUNING OF CLIMBING ROSES
By FURMAN LLOYD MULFORD (U. S. Department of Agriculture)

Climbing roses should be pruned as soon as they are through flowering, or the long sprays may be cut while in bloom for indoor decoration, without fear of injury to the plant.

This year's flowers have come on shoots that have sprung from wood of last year's growth and likewise flowers of the next year will be borne on canes that will be formed later this year.

Every possible encouragement should be given to the formation of vigorous new shoots this year. At blooming time many of these already have started as vigorous young suckers from near the base of the plant. They may be stimulated by cutting away all the wood that has borne blossoms as soon as the flowers are fading or before.

This should include not only the shoots that have borne the flowers but also the year's canes from which they sprung. With the removal of this old wood all the strength of the plant will go into producing new wood for flowering next year.

Where a fence or other low support is to be covered, encourage as many shoots as possible; over a gateway or other high support, reduce the number of canes permitted to grow to three or four.

Such strong growing varieties as American Pillar, Dr. W. Van Fleet, Silver Moon, and Christine Wright under favorable conditions will make a growth of more than 20 feet in a season when treated in this manner.

Some of the hardy climbing roses, known as pillar roses, do not make more than six or eight feet of growth in a year so that even the reduction of the number of canes will not get the growth heretofore suggested.

Occasionally a new vigorous shoot will start from near the end of an old one. When this occurs it is possible to get flowering wood farther from the root than is ordinarily the case and then it is often practicable to use the plant for covering a pergola or other high support.

Climbing tea roses and climbing hybrid perpetuals bear their flowers on wood of this year's growth that may shoot from that of last year, or older wood, or even from growth of the current season, so the pruning of these plants is simply thinning out weak shoots and surplus growth and should largely be done in the spring.

SIMPLE SERVICES MARKED FUNERAL OF BELOVED CITIZEN

PREFACE TO WILL OF LATE J. L. HALBERT BASIS FOR ELOQUENT ORATION

Marked by the same simplicity that characterized his entire life the final rites for Josh L. Halbert, aged 80, who died suddenly at his home early Monday, were said at the First Methodist church Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock with interment in Oakwood cemetery.

One of the largest crowds in the history of Corsicana attended the funeral service, overflowing the church, as merchant and clerk, banker and cook paid their final tribute to a fallen friend and leader.

The basis for the simple funeral oration of Dr. Horace Bishop, 87-year-old Methodist minister of San Angelo was found in the preface to the will of the deceased, written in 1921. The preface began: "In the name of God, I bequeath to the church continued: 'I believe in God and in the final triumph of good, and that Christianity is the only hope of the world—I want my children educated in the public schools that they may know and realize that the main people are the basis and pride of civilization. I want my funeral to be a simple as possible, with few funeral orations and a few honorary pallbearers. If the life I have lived is not worthy, then no word may make it so.'

Following the reading of the preface, the aged minister who served the father of the deceased as a pastor, baptizer, the late citizen and also performed his marriage ceremony, congratulated the city, the church, the board of stewards, the Sunday school and the family on having known, lived with and loved him.

"We all feel that he has not lived a name but a purpose," was the tribute of the minister, "for no such man has lived in vain, and it is not dead, but lives and will live through the scripture lessons and prayers were read by Dr. F. P. Culver, pastor of the First Methodist church, "Jesus Savior Pilot Me," and "Lead Kindly Light," favorites of the deceased were sung by the vested choir of the church under the direction of Edward F. Hearn.

During the simple services at the grave as provided in the ritual a quartette composed of Mrs. P. C. Townsend, Mrs. M. S. Dockum, Loyce Kester and H. E. Metcalf sang "Abide with Me."

Beautiful flowers, the numerous floral offerings banked the entire chancel of the church, and very many tributes of sympathy from the friends, fellow townsmen and friends. A number of people from outside of Corsicana attended the funeral.

The honorary pallbearers for the occasion were the members of the board of stewards of the First Methodist church, and the members of the newly formed Josh Halbert Bible class. Active pallbearers were Douglas Jackson of Liverpool, La., Lowry Martin, Henry Robbins, Beaumont, Texas, Charles C. Jester, Josh H. Groce of San Antonio, F. B. McKie and Allyn Gordon.

Sutherland funeral home had direction of the funeral.

A large delegation of Frost citizens headed by John C. Beck attended the funeral and the First National Bank and the Citizens' National Bank of Frost were closed Tuesday in respect to Mr. Halbert's memory.

SHIPPING INSECTS FROM TEXAS FAR OFF
SOUTH CONTINENT

UVALDE, July 4. (AP)—Thirty-five cases of insects have just been shipped from Uvalde consigned to Australia, where they are to be liberated by the government in an effort to destroy the prickly pear.

The shipment, valued at $3500, weighed 6,894 pounds, and the express charges to San Francisco amounted to about $565. A number of small consignments have been made in the past.

For several years the Australian government has maintained investigators in this section to experiment with insects which they believe will destroy the prickly pear. The climate of this section is said to be quite similar to that of Australia where millions of acres of land are covered with dense prickly pear growths. These growths are so thick in some sections that they cannot get away from them.

Three distinct species are being shipped at present, the most numerous being the beetle-like insect known to the scientific world as "Monilemma ulmi," which devours roots and tops of the plants. Another, the "Aphodius," a destructive beetle, and the "Caterpillar Militaria," of which there are three species.

In recent years several thousand acres have been reclaimed in Australia by the use of these insects. The Uvalde Insect Experiment Station is under way in her sections of Texas and in Arizona and New Mexico.

God took a friend and loved one. From a home we loved so dear, And now the place seems lonely With no loving words of cheer.

God does many a thing. His children cannot understand, But still 'tis sweet to know We will meet on the golden shore.

Our cries cannot bring him back, Nor we his loved one here, But still 'tis sweet to know We will meet on the golden shore.

This quick and sudden parting Has touched many a heart, The prickly pear has destroyed him And just to think we have to part.

Tis troubles here are ended, His sufferings all are o'er, But in that bright and happy home We meet to part no more.

Yes, our dear one we miss you, How our hearts do ache to know That you are not sleeping To wake with us no more.

STORMY PETREL OF TEXAS POLITICS TO ENTER 1930 RACE

HOOVER SUPPORTER SAYS HE WILL MAKE RACE AS ANTI-TAMMANY DEMOCRAT

AUSTIN, July 3. (AP)—Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas formally announced his candidacy for governor, subject to the 1930 democratic primaries today.

"With malice toward none, and charity for all, I shall be a candidate for governor as an anti-Tammany democrat," he said in a statement. "I have a message to carry to the people, and I know of no other way to do it."

"During the past few months, literally thousands of men and women, in all sections of Texas, have expressed their desire that I be a candidate, and I feel the time has now come when my friends and my enemies as well, are entitled to know that I choose to run."

Senator Love was one of the democrats who campaigned Texas for Herbert Hoover for president last fall. He condemned Governor Alfred E. Smith, democratic nominee, for his Tammany connections and anti-Hoover views.

Resigned to "Scratch." Love is a former national democratic committee man from Texas and resigned his place to "scratch" for a ticket in Texas when Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was the nominee for governor.

He was a candidate for the nomination for lieutenant governor in the democratic primaries last summer and got into the run-off with Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller, also of Dallas. His name had been barred from the ballots in some counties because of his announced intention to scratch in the democratic presidential election.

The state executive committee was considering removing his name from the run off ballots when Lieutenant Governor Miller requested it be placed there.

Lieutenant Governor Miller likely will be one of Love's opponents in the 1930 race. He is generally considered a candidate for the governorship.

duced and formally welcomed the visitors to Corsicana.

After bidding them make themselves welcome to all of the privileges, the mayor congratulated the visitors on being recognized as one of the strongest links in the success of the government; he declared that the government was the greatest clearing house in the world, and were carriers of both gladness and sorrow.

Switzer Responds. Carrier Homer E. Switzer, past state president of the association, in his address to the visitors, congratulated Corsicana on having a mayor who would deliver his welcome address in person and not by proxy. He then complimented the city on its hearty reception and for the many arrangements made for the pleasure and comfort of the guests.

Miss Juanita Allmon, daughter of Assistant Postmaster and Mrs. W. O. Allmon, played a piano solo, that was enthusiastically received.

W. E. Christian welcomed the visitors in behalf of the chamber of commerce in the absence of President C. L. Jester, and congratulated the members of the organizations on being parts of one of the most essential parts of the government.

Presidents Introduced. H. A. Blum, chairman of the local chapter, and chairman of the local arrangements committee, then introduced President Ragdale of the carriers and President Loggins of the clerks, who in turn presented other members of the state officers and the heads of the auxiliaries.

P. Mayer, Corsicana postmaster, was introduced and Mr. Stewart paid high tribute to his supervisor in the introduction.

President Loggins of the clerks federation responded to the welcome extended by Mr. Mayer, and asserted that the convention was glad to come to Corsicana.

Mrs. Tessie Dickson, representative of the local auxiliary, welcomed the visitors in behalf of those organizations. She told the assembled clerks and carriers that they could aid the public and themselves by keeping the public informed as to the various rules and regulation of letters and packages.

She asserted that the great duties of the ladies auxiliaries was to see that the men were in the right mental and physical attitudes to carry out their work efficiently.

John R. Carson of Waco responded to the welcome.

W. O. Allmon, assistant postmaster, and R. R. Range, local inspector, were introduced to the convention.

Sidney Miller was presented in a violin solo accompanied by Mrs. Miller.

Mr. Helm presented John R. Curington to introduce the speaker of the hour. Mr. Curington tendered his services gratis to the delegates. He stated that it was particularly fitting that the letter carriers should be in session on the 153rd anniversary of the Declaration of Independence.

He then introduced Congressman

HOUSTON YOUTH SLAIN AND YOUNG WOMAN COMPANION IS SHOT BY UNKNOWN ATTACKER

HOUSTON, July 3. (AP)—Charles Gough, 22, was killed and his companion was critically wounded in a mysterious shooting at Morgan's Point late last night.

Miss Lillian Blissett, 18, is at a hospital.

According to her statement to officers, a man approached their parked car and attempted to drag her from the car. Gough, the man's efforts and both he and the girl was shot.

A posse of county officers are looking for the slayer.

C. H. Gough, 22, shot through the heart and lungs, crumpled to the ground dead at the feet of Miss Blissett, 18, whose body also had received a bullet from the killer's gun.

Complete mystery veiled the slaying. Officers, with hardly a clue to the identity of the killer, were seeking the murderer, seeking a short fat man seen prowling around parked automobiles a short time before the shooting.

The slain youth was the son of a contractor, Miss Blissett was a waitress at the time of the shooting. The girl told officers a man approached their roadster as it was parked near the bayshore and attempted to drag her from the automobile. Gough resisted the attack and was shot through the side.

Two shots were fired in rapid succession. More than a dozen persons were within a 100 yards of the couple when the shooting started. The bullet which hit the side, staggered to his feet, attempting to aid the wounded girl, and then fell dead.

The slayer then shot the girl who was advanced in some quarters. A statement by Dr. D. R. Aves, who gave the girl medical attention before she was rushed to a hospital, substantiated that theory.

"She said a tilted lover might have done the shooting," Dr. Aves said. "She said neither she nor the boy had been robbed."

Miss Blissett was unable to give a rational account of the experience.

Four Houstonians who were on a thing party told officers they saw a man snoring around automobiles as if he were searching for some one. When asked what he wanted the man mumbled, "nothing, my brother-in-law has my coat."

Other persons substantiated the story regarding the mysterious snorer.

The name of a former suitor who might have fired the shots was given this afternoon by the girl.

"I ceased going with him several weeks ago," Miss Blissett said. "Since then he has always followed me, no matter where I went."

Officers had arrested the suitor on a charge of molesting a girl, she made her statement, but he had been released.

Pointers For The Efficient Farmer

(By U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.)

Feeder pigs have been in increased demand during the last few years, chiefly from farmers in the corn belt and from men who desire to get into the business of fattening pigs. Other demands come from garbage feeding and serum plants near large cities. Feeder pigs generally weigh from 75 to 100 pounds, sometimes up to 120 pounds.

There now are on the market small, compact sets for testing soil acidity. These are easily handled and a farmer can test his fields himself. Many farms contain a variety of soils, and sometimes only part of a field will be acid. It is well to make a number of soil-acidity tests in different parts of a field to avoid unnecessary applications of lime.

To determine fairly accurately the number of tons of hay in a stack, multiply the "over," or the distance from the ground on one side over the top to the ground on the other, by the width at the ground, then by the length, and then by the weight of the cubic feet of hay weighs one ton.

Luther A. Johnson of the Sixth District.

Congressman Johnson Talks. Congressman Johnson declared that he was glad to get back to Texas, where the people were so warmhearted as the weather, a fact that is known all over the United States. He told the delegates that he spoke to them as fellow servants of the government, and one who was glad to be associated with the most efficient organization. He issued a warning against the modern philosophy of "get by."

No man or woman, he declared, really lives unless they put more into life than they get out of it. The postal service was termed the most indispensable branch of the government service, and the speaker declared that he had been glad to aid the appropriations and legislative committee in the study of the postal service. He declared that since he had been in congress he had appreciated more than ever the service of the postal employees, and for the many arrangements made for the pleasure and comfort of the guests.

He declared that he was particularly interested in the retirement legislation that would aid in providing for the old age of the people. He also called attention to the fact that it was appropriate that the nation's perpetual soldiery should be in session on Independence Day. He asserted that he would be glad to work with the government stood for equal opportunities, protection of the weak against the strong, and justice alike for native and foreign citizens.

National Officer Speaks. John S. Foley of Boston, Mass., national vice-president of the letter carriers association was then presented. He publicly thanked Congressman Johnson for the work which he and his committee had done in an effort to raise the pension allowance for postal employees.

He stated that the object of the convention was to plan for better service, higher remuneration for the service rendered, and improved working, living and humane conditions of postal employees.

He urged all postal workers to work for a better future in the service, declaring that it was the task of each individual to provide a greater future.

An announcement was then made of the various committees of the associations and auxiliaries and it was announced that separate business session would be held Thursday afternoon. Committees were urged to meet immediately.

One Final Speaker. William Otte, assistant secretary of the National Federation of postoffice clerks of Washington, was the final speaker. The joint session Thursday morning of the delegates that unity of thought and co-ordination of effort would result in a force that could overcome all opposition.

Congressman Johnson and declared that he hoped he would be in Washington for many years to continue his championship of postal legislation. He also paid high tribute to Postmaster P. Mayer. In his concluding remarks he declared that a greater and more efficient organization was needed by the postoffice workers.

TEXAS LEGISLATURE MARKED TIME UNTIL BILL WAS READY

NO CERTAINTY TUESDAY THAT ANOTHER CALL IS NOT TO BE ISSUED

AUSTIN, July 2. (AP)—It was apparent late today that Governor Moody would veto the appropriation bills and recall the legislature to meet in special session tomorrow.

The governor stated that if the appropriations aggregate more than $50,000,000 he would be obliged to veto them, since he had ascertained definitely that revenue of the state for the next biennium could not exceed $49,000,000.

The governor said that the appropriations for the five major appropriations bills total $33,677,526, and the educational appropriation bill, estimated to carry from $16,500,000 to $17,000,000, is yet to come. In addition, miscellaneous appropriations totaling more than $2,000,000 have been voted by the regular and special sessions.

The governor said the state automatic tax board had convened in special session today to ascertain the available revenue for the biennium and that it found with the maximum ad valorem levy receipts could not possibly exceed $49,000,000.

It would be asking too much of the governor for the legislature to expect him to veto some $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 from the bills, he said.

Speaker W. S. Barron broke the news gently to the house late today. As the members waited for the educational bill conference report, the speaker said:

"I called the governor awhile ago to see if it could be safe to check out of the house and not talking to him I have decided not to give up my room."

AUSTIN, July 2. (AP)—As the legislature adjourned today awaiting completion of the educational appropriation bill, there was no certainty that Governor Moody would not call a third special session to convene immediately.

It was pointed out that he had not seen any of the major appropriation bills and that should he find them in such form that he could not cut out some items in his paring process without injuring some department or educational or eleemosynary institution, he would be constrained to veto the entire batch and send them back to the legislature with instructions to keep them within the estimated $49,000,000 revenue of the state. Indications were that all appropriations bills would aggregate $52,000,000 or $53,000,000.

The governor would have twenty-four hours after adjournment to issue a call for a third session before the legislature would be required to pay mileage of members.

Evidently certain the governor would not recall them, many of the legislators had gone to their homes. The house was operating with an attendance of not over 50. It was agreed that one would raise a point of order on absence of quorum.

The special session will end automatically at midnight, unless sine die adjournment is voted soon. When recessed until 2 p. m., it was believed that the educational bill could be completed shortly and the business of the session wound up.

Both houses adopted the conference report on the $987,543.78 claims and accounts bill.

Compromise Reached
By Two Committees

AUSTIN, July 2. (AP)—After a night's work by stenographers and clerks, the educational appropriation bill was in order today for consideration by the house and senate in the closing hours of the second called session of the 41st legislature. The measure makes provisions for support of the educational institutions during the next biennium.

Details of the compromise reached by the conference committee yesterday were not announced immediately, but it was said that in order to scale the total down to bring the appropriations for all purposes within the figure Governor Moody set as a maximum unless he veto the whole batch and call a third session, the proposed buildings for practically all institutions were eliminated.

Governor Moody sent word that while the available revenue for the year for their term two years would not be over $49,000,000 he was willing to pare the bills to within the revenue provided the grand total of all bills was not in excess of $52,000,000 or $53,000,000.

As the legislature's legislative work this year came to a close, the house attendance dwindled. A session last night was fruitless. After much delay was occasioned while sergeant-at-arms attempted to bring in the 100 members necessary to make a quorum and the required number was obtained, it could not be held.

Finance Committee Chamber Deputies Votes Reservation

PARIS, July 4. (AP)—The finance committee of the chamber of deputies by a vote of 17 to 16, with 11 abstaining, today decided to recommend to parliament that reservations be incorporated in the text of the bill ratifying the Mellon-Berenger deal accord with the United States.

This action is diametrically opposed to the policy laid down by Premier Poincare and as a consequence of the vote, Françoise Plet, reporter of the committee resigned.

It was understood the reservations would provide that France's payments under the accord would be reduced or postponed if German reparations ceased or lessened for any reason.

The action of the finance committee caused considerable excitement in the chamber of deputies. The committee only a few days ago had apparently pledged itself to follow the wishes of Premier Poincare and recommend unreserved ratification of the accord. It was the premier's idea that the receipt of debt payment funds from Germany could be set forth in a separate resolution which would be transmitted to Washington apart from ratification of the accord.

Members reported the committee members changed their minds as the result of intense lobbying by adversaries of the ratification measure. This lobbying had been going on since Tuesday when the committee took its stand with Poincare.

The vote today and the resignation of M. Plet were interpreted as a setback to the process of ratification.

Unless the resignation is withdrawn, the committee must elect a new reporter and begin its consideration of ratification all over again. This would delay the open debate on the measure in the chamber and bring the final vote perilously close to August 1.

That delay is important because at a payment of $400,000,000 for war stocks purchased from the American army, falls due. The American congress authorized the administration to postpone this payment provided the accord was ratified by the end of this month.

DETROIT MAN, HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN
BEATEN TO DEATH

DETROIT, July 3. (AP)—Benjamin Evangelistia, 43, his wife, Santana, 40, and their four children, were found slain in their home in St. Aubin avenue here shortly before noon today. All apparently were victims of an axe slayer. Evangelistia's head was severed, and the heads of each of the others had been beaten in.

The children were Angeline, 8, Margie, 6, Jean 4 and Marrow, 13 months.

The body of Evangelistia, known in the Italian neighborhood as a religious healer and a mystic, was found under the front door on the first floor. His arms were folded across his chest. The others were found in the second floor bedrooms.

Had Bought Farm

Discovery of the body as made by Vincent Elias, a real estate dealer, through whom Evangelistia yesterday completed arrangements for the purchase of a farm near Marquette, Mich.

Elias pushed open the front door of the house which he found unlocked and walked into Evangelistia's office. He saw Evangelistia's body, the head lying on the floor and the others behind him. He immediately ran for the police without searching the house further.

A search of the house failed to reveal the weapon with which the family was slain. The wounds on Evangelistia's head were made by an extremely sharp and heavy weapon. No attempt had been made to decapitate the other members of the family.

On Hot Plains of Babylonia Captive Preacher Heard Call

Romantic Personality of Ezekiel, With His Mysterious Figures, Has Notable Links With New Testament—Being a Prophet, Then And Now.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Two of Kipling's lesser known volumes, designed especially for children, "Pluck of Pook's Hill" and "Rewards and Fairies," are among his best work. Their theme is the continuity of history in Old England, as shown by a succession of historical tales. It is in one of these chapters, by the way, that we find the famous poem, "If," which is written as a description of George Washington, and as the interpretation of his character. The idea of this collection of stories, which is the linking of personalities and places across the ages, is a rather fascinating one, and it may be worked out in many fields. Our new series of Lessons on Ezekiel affords a case in point.

Links with Ezekiel reach backward and forward. He was probably a pupil of Jeremiah, but was himself carried into captivity before the fall of Jerusalem. His life was done while he lived with his fellow exiles down on the hot plains of Babylonia, surrounded by triumphant idolatry. Conditions could hardly have been more difficult.

Yet herein again his lot linked with the past, for this was the homeland of Abraham. Amidst similar conditions, the Father of the Faithful, too, had heard the voice of Jehovah, the true God. That religion is a lesson to be driven home to every young person. Hardy souls thrive in hard circumstances; an easy lot is like to produce a flabby spirit. Heroic qualities are developed by adversity. Many of the greatest saints have grown amidst persecution. Ezekiel became a famous prophet in surroundings that debilitated most of his coreligionists. Only such as Daniel, whose lot was akin to Ezekiel's, in the same region, became great in piety. As the moonlight on the sea makes a straight and shining way from the beholder's feet to the moon herself, so, from anywhere and everywhere, there is a direct path to God.

In Line of Inheritance
We find Ezekiel's message leaving across the centuries and living again in the New Testament. The appellation, "son of man," which was applied to the prophet, became the Saviour's own name, designation of Himself. And Ezekiel's visions were the prototype of the Apocalypse. John's Book of the Revelation abounds in the same dazzling imagery that we find in Ezekiel.

In thousands of churches today, we see, on pulpits, lecterns and altars, as the symbols of the four Evangelists, the figures which first appear in Ezekiel's writings—the image of a man, of an ox, of a lion and of an eagle. Few beholders connect these familiar emblems with the utterances of the prophet of the captivity.

As we muse upon Ezekiel, the type of true prophet in a hard time, we cannot fail to connect him with that innumerable company of man and women, numberless, who are the Sunday school teachers of our own day, who privilege and joy it is to make clear the meanings of life in the light of the "Thus saith the Lord." Some of them often feel, as did Ezekiel, amidst the indifference of his people and the heathenism which surrounded him, that the task of being God's messenger is not an easy one; but, like the prophet of old, they tax their utmost resourcefulness to make their message interesting. For they, too, have received the great charter of dignified service: "Son of man, stand on thy feet, and I will speak with thee."

GROESBECK LEGION WILL STAGE GREAT PAGEANT JULY 26

WACO, July 3.—(Sp.)—The American Legion voted here Tuesday to have its drum and bugle corps escort a group of "doughboy sweethearts" to Groesbeck July 26th, to take part in the doughboy day of the Groesbeck Post, at which the "sweethearts" of 25 or more Central Texas posts will be presented in a pageant, to be staged in a glorified military camp.

One of the girls will be chosen to unveil, at a later date, a doughboy statue of bronze on the lawn of the million dollar Limestone county courthouse. The post sending the winner will be awarded $100.00 cash.

Drum and bugle corps contests will be part of the pageant, seven corps having been invited. Fireworks and carnival features are being arranged, the whole program to be in the wooded city park where the legion has previously presented attractions which drew as many as ten thousand people.

Women of the legion auxiliary are preparing a series of entertainments for the visiting girls and gauds, concluding with a dinner dance and cabaret, and music by a celebrated orchestra.

Yorts go, is utterly impotent in a near-at-hand field, to count for anything in China or Africa? And I also ask myself whether the complete failure of this seminary to affect the university body is not a greater heresy than any of the erroneous doctrines discussed in its class rooms.

We may not blink these implications of our Lesson. Ezekiel was commissioner to his own Israelites, his neighbors in exile. Suppose all of our churches would give themselves to proclaiming the unquestioned will of God to their own members. What would be the effect of such a quickened consciousness of God's right and of God's law? Perhaps the shortest, surest, swiftest route to the fulfillment of the larger mission of the Gospel is a revived Church, which has heard and heeded the prophet's poetic word, "Thus saith the Lord."

AGED DEFENDANT IN BREACH PROMISE SUIT TELLS STORY

CHICAGO, July 2.—(Sp.)—Step by step, Franklin S. Hardinge, 62-year-old defendant in a $250,000 breach of promise suit, went over the story of Ann Livingston today and denied the torrid love making she attributed to him.

Interspersed in the denials, the gray headed oil burner manufacturer hurriedly counter-attacked at the reputation and character of the pretty 29-year-old divorcee from Tulsa, Okla.

She told him, he testified, that she so greatly admired Charles Nax, married St. Louis newspaperman, she was anxious to bear a child by him.

"She said it was because he wrote poetry, loved music and was generally smart," he said.

Hardinge denied vehemently he ever attempted intimacy with Miss Livingston as she had charged.
